Obama Weekly Address

President Obama remains positive despite problems with the Affordable Care Act website. In his weekly address, he said that people are working twenty-four seven to fix the bugs. The president said that despite those problems, people are already signing up and seeing the benefits. Obama spoke passionately about why the Affordable Care Act is so important.

OUT: HARD TO BUILD

WE DID IT TO FREE MILLIONS OF AMERICAN FAMILIES FROM THE AWFUL FEAR THAT ONE ILLNESS OR INJURY TO YOURSELF OR YOUR CHILD MIGHT COST YOU EVERYTHING YOU'D WORKED SO HARD TO BUILD

Virginia Attorney General, Ken Cuccinelli responded saying that Obamacare was fundamentally broken, even before it started.
